The ICDF is co-financing with the AfDB a highway project in the Kingdom of Swaziland, and is investigating other cooperative projects.

The African Development Bank, with headquarters in Abidjan, Cote d'Ivoire, has been functioning since 1966. Its shareholders are the 53 countries in Africa as well as 24 countries in the Americas, Europe and Asia. As a regional multilateral development bank, the ADB's principal functions are to make loans and equity investments to regional member countries in Africa, to provide technical assistance for development projects and programs, to promote investment for development purposes, and to help coordinate development policies and plans in African countries. The bank gives special attention to projects and programs which promote regional integration.