Development Focus

South-South Cooperation: “A relationship among equals”

Horizontal cooperation between countries of the global South is increasingly important to meeting the sustainable development challenges of our time, said FAO Director-General José Graziano da Silva. (Read More)

South-South Cooperation

South–South Cooperation is a term historically used by policymakers and academics to describe the exchange of resources, technology, and knowledge between developing countries, also known as countries of the global South.
Fishing for a Sustainable and Equitable Future in the Pacific

The World Bank’s Board of Executive Directors today approved US$32.97 million in International Development Association (IDA) grants and credits to support the Pacific Islands Regional Oceanscape Program. (Read more)

What we’re doing.....

Since 2004, the Aquaculture Project (Kiribati) has been revived following a new Technical Cooperation Agreement signed between Taiwan and Kiribati, and will see the Taiwan Technical Mission develop Ambo Aquaculture Center as a breeding center for milkfish fry.

World Bank Approves US$450 Million for Better Sanitation Services in Ho Chi Minh City

The World Bank’s Board of Executive Directors today approved US$450 million in loans and credits to the Socialist Republic of Vietnam for the Second Ho Chi Minh City Environmental Sanitation Project. (Read More)
ADB President Calls on Greater Mekong Subregion to Build on Achievements
The President of the Asian Development Bank (ADB), Takehiko Nakao, completed a two-day visit to Bangkok today, where he participated in the 5th Leaders’ Summit of the Greater Mekong Subregion (GMS) and met top officials of the host country to discuss ADB’s deepening partnership with Thailand. (Read More)

EBRD delvers strong support in 2014 as emerging economies continue to struggle
Total investments for 2014 across the whole EBRD region are expected at between €8.0 and €8.5 billion, after €8.5 billion in 2013, with increases seen especially among countries in Central Asia, Eastern Europe and the Caucasus and in south eastern Europe. (Read More)
AFD awards prizes to three winners for the 3rd edition of the AFD Photo Contest

The three winners of the 3rd edition of the AFD Photo Contest were awarded a prize on the 16 December, during a ceremony at the Maison Européenne de la Photographie. (Read More)