New Faces at ICDF

Two new employees at the ICDF headquarters in Taipei

Yu Shin-ming
Responsibilities: Maintaining information systems and specialized programming

Yu Shin-ming, whose English name is Norton, was born in 1964, in Taipei. He studied Industrial Management at the National Taiwan Institute of Technology. After graduating, Shin-ming worked on the development of commercial application software systems in accounting, sales and inventory, and cost analyses. In 1994, he obtained employment at the Dalson Educational Institution, a kindergarten chain based in Taipei. At Dalson, he was in charge of planning administrative procedures and developing application systems that controlled departmental budgets, expense settlements, asset management and general ledger systems. Shin-ming wants to help improve management information systems and other information technology assets at the ICDF.

Kuo Mei-yun
Responsibilities: Financial planning and guarantor operations

Kuo Mei-yun, whose English name is May, was born in 1974, in Taipei. She is the eldest of four children. Her father is a lumber merchant, and her mother is a homemaker. Mei-yun majored in International Trade at the National Taipei College of Business. After graduating, she worked in a stainless steel processing company as an assistant to the president responsible for the import/export business. She has studied in the United States, earning a master’s degree at the Lawrence Technological University in Detroit. Making new friends and learning about new cultures when she has lived and studied abroad have been her most memorable experiences, and she looks forward to growing with the ICDF in the future.
