About Taiwan-Europe Scholarship

International education and training has long been a core pillar of TaiwanICDF's operations. Building on its established scholarship programs and long-standing cooperation with leading Taiwanese universities, TaiwanICDF has launched the Taiwan-Europe Scholarship to further advance its commitment to human resource development.

Through this program, the TaiwanICDF seeks to nurture talent in the technology sector. The master's programs offered under the scholarship are closely aligned with this objective, providing students with opportunities to learn from experts across Taiwan's dynamic technology sector. By combining academic knowledge with practical training, the program aims to equip participants to advance their careers and contribute meaningfully to development in their home countries.

Scope of Scholarship

Entitlements: The total scholarship, including airfare (round-trip), housing, tuition, credit fees, insurance, textbook costs and a monthly allowance will be provided by the TaiwanICDF to each student within his/her given award period. The scholarship is itemized as follows:

- Airfare: The TaiwanICDF shall arrange your most-direct flights to and from Taiwan with Economy Class tickets. Every airline has its own carry-on and check-in luggage policy, including for weight limits and transporting pets. Applicants have been advised to check with the airlines for details before departure.
- Housing: All students must reside in the student dormitories.
- Tuition fee: The TaiwanICDF will cover the tuition fee as required by the student's university.
- Credit fees: Credit fees vary with the number of credits registered. Credit fees will also be covered as required by the student's university.

Scope of Scholarship

- Insurance: While in Taiwan, in addition to the mandatory student safety insurance set by the Ministry of Education, each student must be insured for accidental and necessary medical coverage. Insurance fees will be covered for the entire duration of the program.
- Book costs: Purchasing textbooks as required by the instructors shall be subject to the approval of the director of the student's institute
- Allowance: Master's Program: Each student shall receive NT$18,000 per month during the period of the program as allowance for food and miscellaneous living expenses. The sum will be deposited monthly into the student's local bank account.

Step 2 : Contact ROC (Taiwan) Embassy/Office

Applicants must complete an online application. Applicants must ensure that they submit accurate and complete information; failure to do so will result in the application not being processed.

Whether hard or soft copies are required depends on the decision of each individual office ROC (Taiwan) Embassies and Missions Abroad.

Step 3: First Review

The ROC (Taiwan) Embassy/ Consulate General/ Representative office will conduct a first review of applicants based on the eligibility requirements and selection criteria of the TaiwanICDF, and then send their list of recommended applicants to the TaiwanICDF no later than March 31 each year.

Step 4 : Second Review

A second review of the qualified applicants will be conducted by an academic committee organized by the individual partner university in joint cooperation with TaiwanICDF representatives. Such reviews will be based on each university's selection criteria, whilst also accounting for the eligibility requirements and selection criteria of the TaiwanICDF.

Step 5 : Announcement

After the second review has been conducted in cooperation with all partner universities, the TaiwanICDF will announce its list of scholarship recipients, in principle, no later than June 10 each year.

Successful applicants will receive an acceptance letter through the ROC (Taiwan) Embassy/ Consulate General/ Representative Office to whom they originally applied.

Please note: Receiving admission from the university does not necessarily mean that the applicant has also been given a TaiwanICDF scholarship. Only applicants who receive an acceptance letter issued by the TaiwanICDF will be recipients of the scholarship.
