

2006

International Cooperation and Development Fund

About the TaiwanICDF

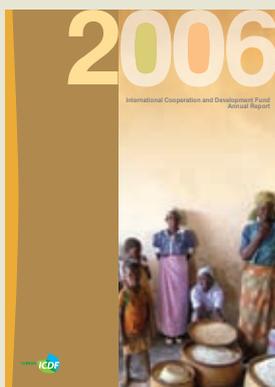

The International Cooperation and Development Fund (TaiwanICDF) was established on July 1, 1996, and serves as Taiwan's premier international development and cooperation organization. With a mission of "working for humanity, sustainable development, and economic progress," the TaiwanICDF shares Taiwan's development experience with partner countries, and assists developing nations in their efforts to become self-reliant, enabling them to emerge from poverty and other developmental difficulties amid globalization.

The TaiwanICDF is guided by a vision of working toward a better world and a brighter future. It aims to achieve these goals through its participation in various initiatives, both on its own, and in tandem with other international development institutions.

History

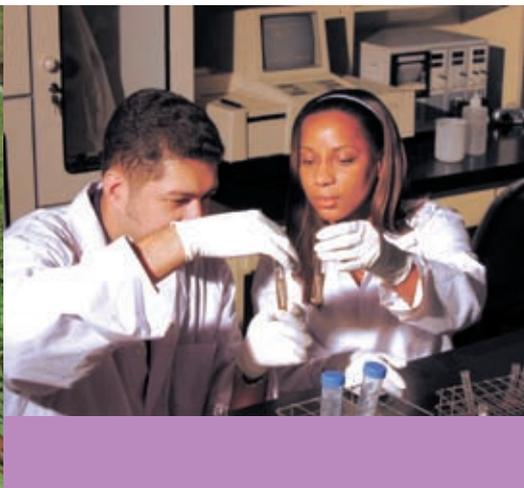

Taiwan initiated its overseas technical assistance in 1959 when the first group of agricultural specialists arrived in Vietnam. In 1961, under Operation Vanguard, technical missions helped improve agricultural production in many newly-independent African countries. In 1962, the task force of Operation Vanguard was expanded to become the Sino-Africa Technical Cooperation Committee (SATCC), a permanent agency responsible for agricultural cooperation with African nations, which merged into the Committee of International Technical Cooperation (CITC) in 1972. This organization spearheaded Taiwan's foreign technical cooperation work, assisting friendly nations with their agricultural development.

Simultaneously, Taiwan began to enter a period of rapid economic growth. In 1989, the government established the International Economic Cooperation Development Fund (IECDF) to provide economic assistance to friendly developing nations. As the variety of cooperative development projects expanded further, and the number of overseas technical missions increased, Taiwan's government dissolved the IECDF in 1996, and established an independent organization: The International Cooperation and Development Fund (TaiwanICDF). The founding fund came from the IECDF and was about NT$11.6 billion. The following year, the CITC was incorporated into the TaiwanICDF.

- Core Operations: Investment, lending, credit guarantees
Multilateral and bilateral technical cooperation
International human resource development
Humanitarian assistance
- Cooperating Partners: Governments, international organizations, NGOs, private enterprises, and civic groups
- Source of Funding: General fund, fund interest and investment returns, and income from commissions by the government or other institutions
- Net Value: NT$15.014 billion (as of December 31, 2006)
- Number of Employees: 82 domestic personnel and 238 overseas experts; 38 volunteers; 124 Youth Overseas Servicemen (as of December 31, 2006)
- Total Committed Investment/Loans: US$494.23 million (as of December 31, 2006)

Contents

4 Message from the Chairman

6 Message from the Secretary General

8 Summary of 2006 Operations

- 9 Banking and Finance Operations
- 10 Technical Cooperation
- 15 International Human Resource Development
- 16 International Humanitarian Assistance
- 18 The TaiwanICDF Fund Utilization
- 19 ROC-Central American Economic Development Fund
- 20 2006 Cooperating Countries and Projects

22 Overview

- 23 International Development and Cooperation Strategies
- 27 Key Areas of Cooperation
 - 27 Agricultural Upgrading: Pursuing Added-Value and Sustainability
 - 32 Private Sector Development: Building a Better Business Environment, and Raising Efficiency
 - 38 ICT Applications: Reducing the Digital Divide; Establishing the Information Society
 - 43 Health Care: Training Locals; Creating a Comprehensive Public Framework

48 Special Reports —

Creating a Unique Avenue for Taiwan in International Development and Cooperation

- 52 Coordination, Integration, Synergy
Core Methodology in International Development
- 57 Striving to Make a Difference
A Decade of the TaiwanICDF Overseas Volunteers Program
- 61 Building a Bridge to the World
Cultivating High Level Human Resources
- 66 Dynamic Medicine — Turning A New Page in Foreign Assistance
The Achievements of the Mobile Medical Missions in 2006
- 70 Creating a Broad International Perspective
Publicity Campaigns and Education

72 Organizational Management

- 73 Financial Management
- 74 Accounting Management
- 76 Administration Management
- 78 Information Management
- 79 Auditing

80 Appendix

- 80 Organizational Framework
- 81 The Joint Board of Directors and Supervisors and the Consultative Committee
- 82 2006 Events
- 86 The TaiwanICDF 2006 Board of Directors and Supervisors Conferences
- 87 Independent Accountants Report
- 102 Table of Regional Cooperation Projects
- 118 Cooperation with International Organizations
- 120 Cooperation with NGOs and Other Entities
- 122 Acronyms and Abbreviations